April Bulletin

2017

April is the Month of the Military Child. Started in 1986 by then-Defense Secretary Casper Weinberger, the Month of the Military Child recognizes and highlights the sacrifices and unique challenges children of service members overcome.

Fort A.P. Hill will show its support of Military Children on Friday, April 14th by wearing purple! Why purple? Purple symbolizes all branches of the military – including their colors: Army green, Coast Guard blue, Navy blue, Marine red, and Air Force blue. When a member of the military serves, their whole family serves, including the littlest and most resilient heroes.

Military Kids, we thank you for your service!

Friday, April 14th— Purple Up Day at Fort A.P. Hill

Founded in 1970, Earth Day is celebrated annually to focus on green awareness and demonstrate support for environmental protection.
